

Faculty Development Challenges and Opportunities

Tuesday, June 6, 2017 ~ 1:00-2:00 p.m. Eastern

Faculty development is more important than ever in today's multi-faceted healthcare environment. At the same time, medical education coordinators and other leaders consistently report challenges in offering engaging, effective educational activities for GME faculty at academic centers and teaching hospitals, as well as for volunteer GME preceptors. AHME is responding to members' needs by offering faculty development resources, including this webinar in which two experienced professionals will discuss common challenges and opportunities for effective faculty development. We hope you'll join us on June 6th for this interactive presentation and introduction to resources.

Objectives:

At the end of this session, the learner should be able to:

- Articulate the benefits of faculty development for his/her organization;
- Identify challenges and barriers to delivering effective faculty development activities;
- Identify AHME faculty development resources; and,
- Develop strategies for next steps in delivering effective faculty development.

Speakers:

William C. Boyer, DHSc, MS, CHSE is the Assistant Vice President for GME and the Associate DIO for HCA in East Florida. He serves as an Affiliate Dean for Florida International University College of Medicine, and is a Clinical Assistant Dean at Nova Southeastern University College of Osteopathic Medicine. Prior to this, Dr. Boyer was the Assistant Clerkship Director of Surgical Care at Lehigh Valley Health Network in Allentown, PA. He is an ACS Advanced Trauma Life Support Educator and a Certified Healthcare Simulation Educator.

Quinn Turner, MS, C-TAGME is the Manager of Medical Education Administration and Coordinator of the Transitional Year and Podiatric Residency Programs at Iowa Methodist Medical Center in Des Moines. He works with the administrative team responsible for GME and CME functions at UnityPoint Health – Des Moines, which includes Iowa Methodist, Iowa Lutheran, Methodist West and Blank Children's Hospital. Mr. Turner has been an AHME member since 1992, was the founding Chair of the AHME's Council of Program Administrators and Coordinators (COPAC), and will serve as AHME President in 2017-18.

Moderator:

JeriSue Petrie, MA is Chair of AHME's Council on Professional and Faculty Development (CPFD).
